RAMAN YOUNG SCIENCE INNOVATOR AWARD

The RYSI Award has been instituted to create interest in Science at a young age, leading to more children taking up STEM as a career. The award aims to establish Science as a fun and interesting activity that can be explored anywhere with simple materials. The award, commemorating the discovery of the Raman Effect on 28th February, 1928 will be open to all children studying in standards III to X.

ELIGIBILITY

AWARD CATEGORY	ELIGIBLE STUDENTS
Junior	III & IV Standards
Middle	V - VII Standards
High	VIII - X Standards

The submission should include

- Scientific Principle addressed
- Materials used
- Procedure description
- Description of the Science
- Photos, Videos, Illustration of the activity

WHAT AM I SUPPOSED TO DO?

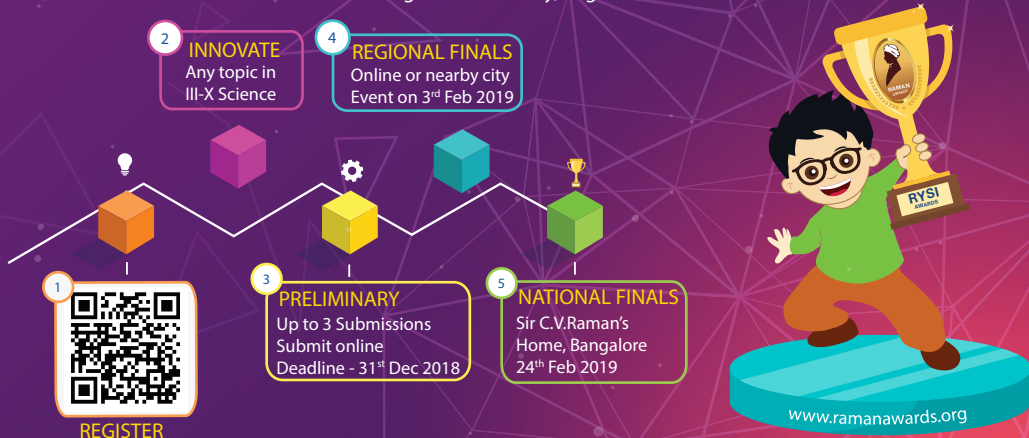

Participants are expected to create hands-on science activities that demonstrate a principle in the selected topic. Working models, toys or experiments that help demonstrate the scientific principle selected may be submitted. The entries will be judged based on:

- Originality of the idea
- Ease of access to materials required
- How well does it convey the science?
- Fun – how enjoyable is the activity?

The first stage of the award is conducted online, registration and submission can be made at www.ramanaward.org. Up to three submissions in any topic will be considered at the preliminary stage. The regional finals may be conducted either online or at a regional location and the national finals will be conducted at Sir C.V.Raman's old home at Bangalore.

RYSI AWARD PROCESS

The RYSI award has three stages – Preliminary, Regional Finals and National Finals:

*Finalists studying in Government schools will be reimbursed travel and lodging expenses. Other finalists are required to make their own arrangements.
